We know the important work APS does and policy makers need to know too. You are a critical part in advocating for your needs and the field. Join us to discuss the current landscape of legislation impacting Adult Protective Services and what you can do to advocate for resources. Bring your questions and ideas, we'll provide the glossary!

Presenters:

Iris C. Freeman, MSW, is a longtime advocacy leader and educator in public policy for older adults. She sits on the NAPSA Board of Directors and is a board member of the Minnesota Elder Justice Center, where she chairs the Public Policy Committee.

Kendra Kuehn, MSW, along with Bill Benson serve as NAPSA's national policy advocates with Congress, the Executive Branch, and several coalitions across the lifespan.

This webinar is open to NAPSA members and nonmembers. There is no charge for this webinar. Sorry, CEUs are not available.

After registering you will receive a confirmation email containing information about joining the webinar.
